

EOS Fund $17.50
Location: TBA

Grades Gazette

EDITION 2

2 Wins
2 Losses

3s Team of the Decade

1. D.Speed
2. c M.Knott
3. M.Gallichio
4. M. Spetsiotis
5. C.K.Prowse
6. D.Wood
7. D.Eva
8. J.Dessent
9. + A.Morton
10. C.Brabender
11. S.O'Grady
- 12th M.McInerney

In light of the recent announcement that the club will be honouring the best XI players of the last decade. I thought it would be only fair to honour some of the "great" 3s players over the same period

The Openers: Looking back over the years and we have been blessed by top order options. None better then Speedy and Knotty they were Langer and Hayden like at times, and punished attacks from Nth Balwyn to the Basin.

The only criticisms would be the following stat

Pre March ave partnership: 48

March ave Partnership: 4

The Middle Order: Gallichio and Spets are both club centurians, and are both regarded as bullies of weaker line ups. If fanfooty recorded their careers a trash can would appear

The All Rounders: No real arguments here (well Prowsey will say he is batting low). But in all honesty both have won games for the club with bat and ball.

Woody: People often forget the woodmans contributions to the 3's and offers leadership and creativity captaincy.

The keepers: Hardest call of the XI, room for both to play but only one to keep. I had to toss a coin one day when I couldn't decide what was better for the team Rusty's hard working body on the line approach or Morton's freshly laundered whites and $200 stylish white gloves. Style won out for mine.

Bowlers: Was a hard decision picking spud, especially after losing a throw off with Sarah

Campbell.... But years of loyalty and improvement got him the gig (B2B2B cpts award winner). Who can forget Brabs, his inswinging yorkers rattled a few stumps and was a man who actually made most of his runs in semi finals. Whilst neither won an ECA averages, both were handy in their day

Captain: Knotty 4 semi's as skip

12th Man: M.McInerney, staunch club man

Unlucky's: Macca and Jnr, were driven to play higher grades. A quality that should never be in the 3s mentality. Hammo would have been picked however abandoned the club.

C.Miles unlucky, his scones are always a hit. J.Georgiou averaging 50+ with bat and 10 with ball, not quite good enough.

Govey's Panther Cross Word

GREATEST PANTHER "INJURIES"

- 10 - Scotty P, fell down the stairs at his work injuring his "Shouldy"
- 9 - Speedy last season, into his 2nd over of his innings collapsed vomiting all over the pitch. He alleges heat exhaustion.....
- 8 - Dave Beattie tried catching a ball with his eye, in another eye incident Dave had to leave the field for 20mins in a GF because a bug flew into his eye
- 7 - My ankle should get a mention, fell in a pot hole, tripped over a kerb, jumped off a balcony damaging my ankle ligament each time
- 6 - Spud O'Grady, fielding at midon spudded a catch and came to far forward. He had to jump backward to catch the ball, this didn't work to well for Spud as he fall on his back and his smashed the ground causing a mild concussion.
- 7 - Junior Prowse in a practice match this season (day after the AFL Grand Final) broke his elbow falling when attempting to rush a "quick single" spectators say they should have run 3.
- 6 - Rusty, the energetic chap he is was so keen for the drinks break decided to jump the fence to get off the ground. His landing was less then graceful tearing his ligament in his ankle when crash landing.
- 5 - Wolfy is a keen Curler. But what many don't realise is that he had an interrupted preseason due to hurting his hip falling whilst Curling!
- 3 - Blacky on 97, did his knee whilst hitting a 6. On his follow through he was unable to control his bat which collected his stumps dismissing him on 97. note: Blacky had a black eye from top edging ball into his head
- 1 - Bakes has an unfortunate problem when every time he gets injured it coincides with him going for runs. What is more perplexing is that the injury is magically cured when the tail started to come out

PANTHER RACING NIGHT - 22ND OCTOBER RACE 1 PREVIEW

Panther Classifieds

FOR SALE
As featured on Underbelly
See Rusty for further details

Race 1: Civilex Handicap

- 1) Shot from the bell tower 2-1
- 2) Holzer Shield Rep evens
- 3) Ankles like Wardy 7-1
- 4) Magic Morton 6-1
- 5) Premierships dont pay 12-1
- 6) Quaddies Do 25-1
- 7) Push up King 3-1 8) Porch Monkey 4-1

Race one of the night seems a closer affair the bookies think. Favourite Holzer Shield Rep is yet to prove itself in a quality race. Shot from the bell tower always looks good early, but when a bit of pressure comes it falters. Money will come for Porch Monkey, however these punters are mugs as Porch

Monkey will prove to be not good enough. There is definite value if you look deeper, stablesmates Premierships dont pay & quaddies do never put in a bad performance. But are best suited in April/ May. My tip is Morton Magic from Ankles like Wardy

CONFIDENTIAL

- Cult hero Wolfy seen Curling at the Albert park ice rink.Oooowlllllllllllll
- Rocket seen meeting with Meatloaf to discuss entertainment for his upcoming 350th game
- Cameron Dickson seen @ Country Harvest bakery around 12.10pm last Saturday
- Scotty P spotted in Vegas loitering around a 24hr wedding chapel....

6 Degrees of Tony Miles

with Silvio Berlusconi (Italian Prime Minister)

- 1 Tony Miles
- 2 Dean Jones (Works for Tony Miles)
- 3 Martin Crowe (Dean Jones Trans Tazman rival)
- 4 Russell Crowe (Cousin of Martin)
- 5 George Clooney (Frequent verbal stouches with Crowe)
- 6 Silvio Berlusconi (Embroided in a scandal with Clooney)

Panther Trivia update

At time of press the kitty was up to $70
Once again rules are answer all questions to get 75% of Kitty. Other 25% goes to the end of season cricket fund.

Sample Questions:

- 1) Who was Australia's first PM?
- 2) Who is taller Tony Liberatore or Aaron Sandilands?
- 3) Who won the 2011 AFL Grand Final